

BISHOP GARVEY DIES AT ALTOONA

Central Pennsylvania Prelate Expires After Long Illness at Age of 75

APPOINTED 19 YEARS AGO

Altoona, Pa., Oct. 22.—The Right Rev. E. A. Garvey, bishop of the Altoona diocese of the Catholic church, died here this morning.

In 1917 the bishop suffered a collapse from which he never fully recovered. He was stricken Tuesday morning and shortly afterwards lapsed into a state of coma, from which he never rallied.

Bishop Garvey was born October 6, 1845, at Carbondale, Pa., studied for the priesthood at St. Charles' College, Ellicott City, Md., and was ordained in St. Peter's Cathedral, Scranton, September 22, 1869. He was appointed rector of the Church of the Annunciation, Williamsport, December 7, 1871, and was stationed there for twenty-eight years. In 1899 he became rector of St. John's, Pittston, and vicar general of the Scranton diocese. In July, 1901, he was appointed bishop of the newly created Altoona diocese, and was consecrated at Scranton September 8, coming to Altoona a few days later.

Early this year at the request of Bishop Garvey, who realized his life was drawing to a close, the Rt. Rev. John J. McCort, rector of Our Mother of Sorrows Church, Philadelphia, was appointed coadjutor bishop of Altoona diocese, with right of succession. He has been here since March 22.

The Rt. Rev. John J. McCort, former rector of the Church of Our Mother of Sorrows, Forty-eighth street and Lancaster avenue, was named recently as bishop coadjutor of the Altoona diocese with the right of succession because advanced years and illness hampered Bishop Garvey in performing the duties of his episcopal office.

Bishop McCort formerly was auxiliary bishop of Philadelphia, and as such was assistant to the late Archbishop Prendergast. When the archbishop died, Bishop McCort was made administrator of this archdiocese.

He continued as administrator until Pope Benedict appointed the Most Rev. Denis J. Dougherty as archbishop of Philadelphia.

After the new archbishop had taken over the see of Philadelphia Bishop McCort virtually devoted all his time to the rectorship until his appointment as bishop coadjutor.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS
The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

The Military Order of the World War, an organization of commissioned officers in all branches of the service, began a campaign for new members for the Philadelphia post last night. At a recent national convention that name was adopted in place of American Officers of the Great War. Robinson Lea Perot, post commander, addressed the board of directors at their headquarters in the Hotel Walton. He said their aim would be 8000 members in Philadelphia and vicinity. J. Russell Long, 222 Walnut street, was appointed chairman of the membership committee.

EX-OFFICIERS SEEK MEMBERS

GIRLS INDIGNANT AT FRAUD CHARGE

Young Women Say Collections at Hunt Club Were Honestly Made

FOR CHILDREN IN EUROPE

Indignation was expressed today by three young women authorized to collect funds for the starving children of Europe on account of a report declaring them to be impostors.

The young women collected considerable money Wednesday just before the sports began at the Rose Tree Hunt Club, Media. The women who gathered the contributions are Miss Matilda Bruner, Miss Mildred Stoll and Miss C.

J. Chambers, all workers for the Karmel relief fund of the Karmel Lutheran Church, Seventy-second street and Elmwood avenue.

The young women declared today they were authorized to make these collections by the Bureau of Public Charities and possessed the necessary credentials for making the collections.

They deny they "disappeared" after the money was gathered on Wednesday, as reported, and said they simply left when their work had been completed.

The Rev. William Weiss, pastor of the Karmel church, said the money collected by the young women was forwarded to the headquarters for American relief work, in New York.

"I received appeals for aid some time ago from Switzerland and Germany," said Mr. Weiss, "and the young women volunteered. The money is used by the Swift Relief Fund, which sends tubular children from Germany to Switzerland, and also by Dr. Ludwig Schneller, who has an orphanage at Cologne, Germany, where he is caring for 1200 destitute children."

More beautiful isolated sections of the Park.

The Mayor himself will be unable to go, but Frank H. Caven, director of the Department of Public Works, will take his place. A committee on arrangements includes W. B. Thomas, chairman; A. W. Sheldrake, D. J. McCudden, Jr., Hiram C. Myer, Harry E. Loomes, John A. Foley and Peter Peters.

FOR THE man who is willing, advertising smooths the way for ultimate increased sale

THE HOLMES PRESS, Printers 1315-29 Cherry Street Philadelphia

SAVE 20% BY ORDERING NAME-PRINTED Christmas Cards from us, before November 1st. You'll need them, so save money and get the best cards. Glad to show these fine cards to you.

The Library Shop 15 South 13th Street "THE SHOP OF UNUSUAL CARDS"

IF IT'S A Columbia Record WE HAVE IT Woodland Talking Machine Shop 4103 WOODLAND AVE. GRAPONOLAS — EASY TERMS

Phone "Tom" Foley for Latest Records and Columbia Grafonolas Bell Phone 7919 1406 GIRARD AVE.

Do you know that today you can buy a LOCOMOBILE for

$7550 FORMER PRICE $8900

The price goes up after January first unless manufacturing costs come down.

LOCOMOBILE

The best built car in AMERICA

LOCOMOBILE COMPANY

2314 MARKET STREET, PHILADELPHIA

Seen in the Chestnut St. Shops

Budget-making has, of late years, come to be considered one of the practical arts, and has even been given a place in the curriculum of one of our great universities. And where is efficiency more necessary than in the management of a home? The wise housewife, who allows so much for clothes, so much for food, so much for luxuries, knows that she can spend her money to best advantage in the Chestnut Street Shops.

Deborah Sagan

ONCE in a blue moon one comes upon a dress molded according to one's heart's desire—such as the little frock of chiffon taffeta at "Millard's Dress Shop," 1337 Chestnut Street and 127 South Thirteenth Street. It comes in sunset, a color that has in it the tints of the autumn skies, a lovely orchid, a pale rose and a wonderful Nile green. One can't help but picture a rainbow wedding, with such frocks as these to lend the right color note.

For that Halloween dance you could choose nothing lovelier than the frock of Flanders rose taffeta, with quaint basque and bouffant skirt. Distinctly Parisian in origin are the grapes of black moiré en appliqué and the gold embroidery which add so much to its effectiveness. Its price is $59.75.

THESE days are just right for golf, and one's game is vastly improved by the knowledge that one looks well dressed. Now, this year, golf hose are quite important to the success of one's golf costume, so I know you will be glad to hear that you can get them, in just the attractive heather shades you've been looking for, at MacDonald & Campbell's, 1334-36 Chestnut Street.

These heather shades of green, brown and tan look particularly well with the tweed and the Scotch plaid skirts that are much favored for golf wear. Many women are wearing these good-looking woolen hose with their tailored sports suits, and it is a good thing to remember that you can buy them at MacDonald & Campbell's at prices ranging from $3.75 to $5.

IF YOU were designing a two-quart saucepan what features would you insist upon? First of all, it would be made of aluminum, the material which heats most quickly and stays hot longest. Second, it must have rounded, "easy to clean" corners. Third, it must have a handle that is easy to grasp—that fits the hand. Fourth, it must have its handle firmly riveted to the pan. Fifth, it must hold exactly two quarts. Now that is just exactly how the Aladdin Aluminum two-quart saucepan is made, and every Aladdin utensil is designed just as a woman would design it for her own use. That is why so many women prefer Aladdin utensils to any others. Aladdin Aluminum cooking utensils are sold by J. Franklin Miller, 1612 Chestnut Street.

WAD some power the gift of me," to describe those good-looking skirts of real Scotch plaid which I saw at the store of A. G. Spalding & Bros., 1210 Chestnut Street. They are certainly smart-looking and I can imagine nothing more appropriate for wear on the links. Every one seems to be including a sports coat in her wardrobe this winter, so I must say a word in favor of the Polo cloth coats at Spalding's. They are delightfully soft and warm and most reasonably priced. Or perhaps you would like a leather or suede coat lined with jersey—and for wear with these latter there are the smart hats of duetvino or felt trimmed with leather. For wear with the Polo cloth coats there are attractive tams of the same material.

LET me tell you several things that I've discovered about a phonograph. One is that if a non-resonant material, instead of metal, is used in the manufacture of the reproducing mechanism a much better tone results—a soft, mellow tone, with not the least harshness in it. Such a tone you will find in the Perfektone Phonograph, with its cushioned reproducer. This phonograph possesses another advantage in its non-echoing case. The case of wood or rattan which, by the way, is most attractive, allows of the escape of sound in a natural way—there are no after-sounds or reverberations. Stop in some day at the salesroom of the Perfektone Corporation, 1723 Chestnut Street. They will be glad to play for you any record you may wish to hear.

THE CHESTNUT STREET ASSOCIATION

Do you know that today you can buy a LOCOMOBILE for

$7550 FORMER PRICE $8900

The price goes up after January first unless manufacturing costs come down.

LOCOMOBILE

The best built car in AMERICA

LOCOMOBILE COMPANY

2314 MARKET STREET, PHILADELPHIA

Seen in the Chestnut St. Shops

Budget-making has, of late years, come to be considered one of the practical arts, and has even been given a place in the curriculum of one of our great universities. And where is efficiency more necessary than in the management of a home? The wise housewife, who allows so much for clothes, so much for food, so much for luxuries, knows that she can spend her money to best advantage in the Chestnut